Background

In 2021-22, the Office for Regional Youth (ORY) provided funds to the Department of Communities and Justice to run a pilot for an open grants program for dedicated youth radio stations, youth podcasts and/or radio stations with youth programming via equipment upgrades, training, and/or youth program development.

The 2023 Regional Youth Radio program will be funded and administered by the Office for Regional Youth as part of the Department of Regional NSW.

Non-government organisations and regional NSW councils are invited to apply for grants between $10,000 and $25,000 to deliver a Youth Radio project for up to 12 months. Applications close Friday, 2 December 2022 at 4:00pm.

The Guidelines provide an overview of the Regional Youth Radio Program and important information about the application and granting process. Applicants are advised to read the Guidelines carefully before completing an application for funding.

Program Purpose and Objectives

The Regional Youth Radio Program aims to increase young people's participation in activities that strengthen their opportunities for connection and belonging to their communities. The Regional Youth Radio Program supports organisations to empower young people to design and deliver projects, enabling them to:

Have a greater sense of voice, and feel a sense of choice and control in their lives

Feel empowered, as their ideas and opinions are respected, considered and acted upon

Participate in youth-led and youth driven community outcomes

Gain relevant training to support their participation

Address and overcome barriers to participating in the community

Feel more confident within themselves and their abilities, having expanded their knowledge and skills

Build community-based partnerships and networks

Seek further opportunities to participate and stay engaged in their community

Feel a greater sense of connection and belonging within their community

Strengthen connections with their Aboriginal culture and identity

The Regional Youth Radio Program aligns with the four pillars of the NSW Regional Youth Framework. The four pillars are Work Ready, Wellbeing, Community and Connectivity.

Program Core Components

- Establish partnerships with young people based on mutual respect.

2. Acquiring and expanding knowledge and skills

Funded organisations are required to:

- work with young people to identify skills that align with their interests and support their participation in the project and in the community. These could include:

 - communication and presentation skills
 - negotiation and conflict resolution skills
 - project management
 - writing scripts, applications, resumes, reports, and letters
 - dealing with the media
 - formal certificates in radio and podcasting
 - culture and community engagement.

3. Meaningful engagement

Funded organisations are required to:

- Establish a protocol to enable young people to actively influence decisions, chair and facilitate meetings, lead discussions and provide input on budgeting and expenditure, such as through a steering committee.

4. Access to resources and financial support

Funded organisations are required to:

- consider and address any barriers that may prevent young people from participating.

5. Respect, value and recognition

Funded organisations are required to:

- promote the project within the community and to the media
- promote young people's contributions and impact on issues that are important to them and their community
- recognise young people's involvement via certificates, references or any other form of recognition identified by young people
- provide feedback to participants that recognises their personal contribution to the project and how they can use their experience or continue to participate in broadcasting/podcasting following the project's completion.

Stages of a Regional Youth Radio project

Stage 1 – Identifying the need

Sample activities:

- Consider ideas/issues from consultation with young people in the community. Make sure to build in potential for those ideas to evolve and grow when you present them to the project group.
- Generate new ideas by consulting young people through different methods, for example, meetings, focus groups, online surveys. Consider and address barriers preventing young people coming forward with ideas.
- Form project idea and identify young people to participate in project planning and delivery.

Stage 2 – Planning and design

Sample activities:

- Establish leadership group to oversee project.
- Develop idea into a defined project, with milestones and timelines.
- Identify risks and mitigation strategies.
- Cost each item of the project, including identifying in-kind support and preparing a realistic budget.
- Consider sustainability of the project beyond the project period.
- Prepare Regional Youth Radio grant application.

Stage 3 - Delivery

Sample activities:

- Participate in project oversight / steering committee.
- Participate in events and activities.
- Review and report on progress; seek approval to make adjustments to project if needed.

Stage 4 – Final review and recognition

Sample activities:

- Discuss key learnings from the project and include young people's feedback within your project's Regional Youth Radio Completion Report.
- Formal recognition of the benefits achieved, and the individuals involved in the project.
- Feedback to all project participants, including how their contribution was recognised.
- Identify potential new project ideas.

Applicant organisations must ensure the input of young people is firmly embedded in each stage of the project.

Assessment process

1. Eligibility assessment

All applications will be screened for initial eligibility by Office for Regional Youth staff. All projects must meet the eligibility criteria outlined in the Program Guidelines to progress to a merit-based assessment. Where an application's eligibility on one or more criteria is uncertain, the project can progress to the merit-based assessment stage with a final determination on eligibility to be made by the Assessment Panel.

2. Merit-based assessment

Each Assessment Panel member will conduct a merit-based assessment of all applications deemed eligible by the Department of Regional NSW/Office for Regional Youth. Eligible proposals will be assessed against the assessment criteria [see page 2].

3. Assessment Panel meeting

All eligible proposals will be reviewed and considered by the Assessment Panel. The assessment panel will make a final decision on proposals that may have questions about their eligibility. This will be achieved by Panel members voting on any matter of contention, with a majority (two of three) to carry a determination.

4. Recommendations and approval

Following the merit-based assessment of all applications by panel members, an Assessment Panel meeting will be convened to:

- Endorse application eligibility assessments
- Determine eligibility where it has been assessed as uncertain for one or more criteria
- Review the aggregate scores of applications following merit-based assessment
- Develop a list of proposals for final approval.

5. Final approval

A package of recommended projects that are within the program funding criteria will be provided to the Director, Office for Regional Youth for endorsement. These will then be provided to the Minister for Regional Youth for final approval.

Should the Minister's final approvals depart from the Office for Regional Youth's recommendations, this will be recorded in writing, including reasons for the decision, having regard for the guidelines and the key principle of achieving value for money, and the Department of Regional NSW will manage these records in accordance with the requirements of the State Records Act 1998.

Assessment Panel

Applications will be moderated and reviewed by an assessment panel convened by the Department of Regional NSW (Assessment Panel) to ensure consistency in assessment. Each application will be assessed on its merit and compared to other eligible applications before a recommendation is made in writing to the decision maker.

Applicants may be contacted during this step to clarify information provided in their application. The Department of Regional NSW will notify applicants if additional information and supporting material is required and the timeframes in which it is required.

The Assessment Panel will consist of a representative from:

- Office for Regional Youth
- Department of Communities and Justice
- NSW Regional Youth Taskforce (2022, 2021 or 2020).

The assessment panel may recommend a lesser amount of funding for an application or defer a recommendation pending further information.

The assessment panel may take other factors into consideration when recommending an application for funding including but not limited to the total amount of funding available, geographical distribution of projects across regional NSW, suitability of a project for other government funding opportunities and alignment with existing NSW Government policies and strategies.

Advice may also be sought from other NSW Government agencies or other sources (such as probity advisors).

Decision Making

The decision maker for the Grant is the Director, Office for Regional Youth followed by the Minister for Regional Youth for final approval.

The decision maker will review the availability of grant funds and the Assessment Panel's recommendation before deciding which grant applications to recommend. The decision maker may take other factors into account that may make an application ineligible for funding, including issues that could cause reputational or other risks to the NSW Government.

The decision maker's recommendations are made to the Minister. The Minister's approval is final in all matters, including:

- The approval of the grant
- The grant funding amount to be awarded, and
- The terms and conditions of the grant.

There is no appeal mechanism for decisions to approve or not approve a grant.

Probity advice

Independent probity advisors will provide guidance to the Department of Regional NSW on any issues concerning integrity, fairness and accountability that may arise throughout the application, assessment, and decision-making process. This will ensure decisions are made with integrity, fairness and accountability, while delivering value for money for NSW.

Can Ineligible Projects be referred to a more appropriate funding program?

Yes. Projects that are more suitable for other NSW Government programs may be referred to those programs. Applications that are referred will be subject to the full Assessment Criteria of the other NSW Government program to which they are referred. Applicants may need to update their application to meet the criteria of the referred program.

Successful Applicants

Successful applicants will be notified in writing by letter and/or email.

Successful applicants will be published on the NSW Government's website within 45 days of the final approval.

Successful Applicants will be required to provide all supporting documentation and approvals before the Department of Regional NSW can enter into a funding deed. This includes $20 million Public Liability Insurance.

Successful applicants will enter into a Funding Agreement with the Department of Regional NSW and will be required to report on the progress and completion of the project. Funds will not be released until the Funding Agreement has been signed by both parties.

The NSW Government makes no binding funding commitment to an Applicant unless and until both parties sign a funding deed.

Successful Applicants must not make financial commitments for funded activities until funding deeds have been executed by both parties.

Grants will be paid via milestone payments set out in the funding deed. Timing and requirements will vary at NSW Government's discretion.

Specific reporting requirements will be advised once the grant is approved. Any unspent funds, or funds not expended in accordance with the Funding Agreement must be returned to the Department of Regional NSW.
