

Short term registration inspection requirements

This diagram shows when a vehicle inspection is required for renewing registration with different combinations of terms.

Each row in the diagram represents a scenario of how you may choose to renew your vehicle registration. Each arrow represents a registration term, of either three, six or 12 months.

If the term you choose for your next registration period means the next registration expiry date is more than 12 months after the last registration renewal when an inspection was needed, your vehicle will need an inspection unless it is exempt.
