Thank you for your message. I realised today, that I inadvertently sent through the wrong copy of my submission.

The attached submission is the correct copy and should replace the previous submission which had a couple of key typos (left out 'not' etc).

Many thanks

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for getting in touch with us regarding the NSW Property Tax proposal.

I can confirm we have received your email and we appreciate you spending the time to respond to us.

We are collating submissions, ideas and feedback for review by the policy team and your email, and attachment, will be included.

If and when more information about this proposal becomes available, it will be published on the treasury.nsw.gov.au/property-tax-proposal website.

This proposal is not yet finalised, and feedback and comments from interested parties are still most welcome. The Government anticipates it will report on the outcomes of this process in mid-2021.

Yours sincerely,

Tax Reform Taskforce
NSW Treasury

I had difficulties making a submission last night. I was able to access the survey however not able to post comment on the ideas board despite it still being the 15 March, nor find the link to the portal to make an online submission. After making enquiries this morning, I was able to find this email address.

I would appreciate if my submission which is attached is accepted. Please let me know if this is not the case.

In terms of my personal details, I'd like these to be kept confidential.

Many thanks
