Message from the Deputy Premier

Our mining and resources sector continues to play an important role in supporting a strong NSW economy and will continue to do so for many years.

From Singleton to Parkes, mining is the backbone for many of our regional communities, providing around 40,000 jobs across the state. It is an industry that continues to support not only those employed directly, but also thousands of people who work in mining-related jobs.

This is why the NSW Government continues to invest in these communities particularly through our Resources for Regions program which boasts eight successful rounds since 2012, providing $420 million in funding to more than 242 projects.

This year I am excited to announce Round 9 of the Fund that will provide $140 million to further support our mining communities and, for the first time, our communities where gas exploration occurs too.

We hope this Round will build on the success of last year in which we saw a variety of applications put forward, from PCYC upgrades, to new sports courts and skills programs. In fact, last year was the most successful round to date, supporting the highest number of projects and delivering the largest investment into our mining communities in the fund's history, with 93 projects sharing $75 million.

This funding is part of a $1.3 billion top up of the Regional Growth Fund, taking the total investment to $3.3 billion since 2017. This unprecedented amount of funding reaffirms the NSW Government's commitment to the wellbeing and longevity of our regions.

I hope to see a great range of project applications submitted again this year and strongly encourage you to apply for Round 9.

Deputy Premier
Minister for Regional NSW, and Minister for Police

Overview

The Resources for Regions program has run since 2012, providing support to communities across regional NSW impacted by mining. Round 9 of the program will be expanded to support communities where gas exploration or mining may occur

Round 9 provides up to $140 million to NSW's highly valued mining communities for infrastructure and community projects that support economic and social prosperity. The program will fund infrastructure projects and community programs that help address these unique and diverse needs.

The Resources for Regions program is administered by the Department of Regional NSW.

Program funding

A total of $140 million is available under Round 9 of the Resources for Regions program to be allocated across the identified Eligible Local Government Areas.

Prescribed allocations of funding are assigned to Eligible Local Government Areas to ensure the Resources for Regions program is weighted towards supporting the most mining-affected communities in NSW.

The funding allocations to Eligible Local Government Areas consist of:

a base allocation of $2 million plus an allocation of weighted funding to the most mining-affected Local Government Areas using the mining employment location quotient, and/or a weighted funding allocation to Local Government Areas that may be impacted by gas exploration and mining, based on the prevalence of tenements.

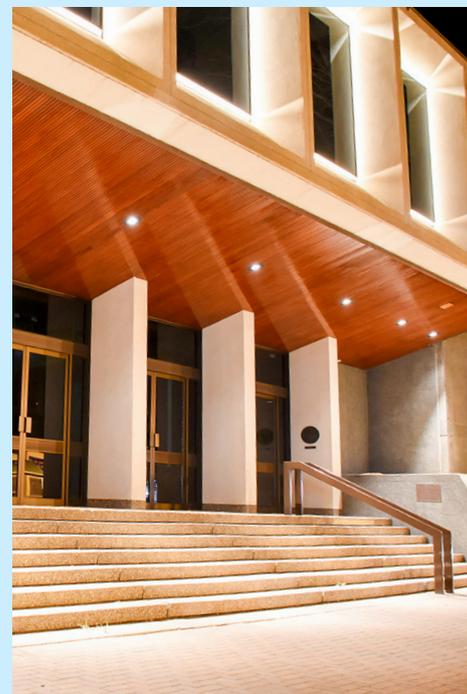

Further information about the location quotient and the criteria used to determine the weighted allocation for Local Government Areas impacted by gas exploration is available in the Frequently Asked Questions on the program webpage.

The eligible Local Government Areas are outlined at Appendix A of the Program Guidelines.

Each eligible council will be informed in writing of the funding allocation available for their Local Government Area. Councils are eligible to submit 10 projects up to the maximum funding allocation for their Local Government Area.

If a council submits applications seeking funding above the nominated funding allocation for their Local Government Area, council is asked to rank projects, including joint projects (if applicable), in their order of local priority.

Where a Local Government Area's funding allocation is not fully exhausted, the ability to use these funds in future rounds or for other projects will be assessed on a case-by-case basis at the sole discretion of the Department of Regional NSW.

Inclusion and accessibility

The NSW Government is seeking to support regional communities to future-proof infrastructure and programs by funding universally designed projects. These projects should move beyond current day compliance standards and provide dignified and equitable inclusion to social and community programs for people with disability.

Funding will support projects that improve community participation, livable communities and accessibility and inclusion outcomes. These will assist people with disability and accessibility requirements to participate independently with equity and dignity.

Applicants must demonstrate consideration of accessibility and inclusion measures in their application. Projects which demonstrate the provision of fit-for-purpose, accessible and safe facilities, and increased participation opportunities by increasing accessibility and inclusion/universal design are encouraged.

This applies to both infrastructure projects and community or social programs aiming to improve existing accessibility and inclusion to encourage greater participation.

Assessment Criteria

All applications that meet the Eligibility Criteria must also meet the relevant Assessment Criteria to receive funding.

Eligible applications will be assessed against the following:

1. Delivery of outcomes aligned with the program objectives
2. Local need
3. Affordability
4. Deliverability

Projects will be assessed as a 'Yes/No' against the Assessment Criteria. Projects will not be competitively assessed across Eligible Local Government Areas.

Criteria 1:

Delivery of outcomes aligned with the program objectives

All projects within an application must demonstrate they will deliver on one of the 5 key strategic objectives of the program.

Infrastructure projects must show capacity to:

- mitigate the impact of mining or gas exploration on local infrastructure in the Local Government Area, or
- deliver new economic opportunities to help strengthen and/or diversify the local economy, or
- improve community amenity through new or upgraded community infrastructure.

Community programs must show the capacity to either:

- support economic diversification initiatives to support the long-term resilience and prosperity of mining communities, and/or gas exploration communities
- deliver positive community outcomes by improving the overall well-being of mining and/or gas exploration communities.

Applications will need to show measurable outcomes that can be delivered by each project and how the Applicant will monitor these outcomes. Projects that are not able to articulate clear outcomes and monitoring and reporting processes will not be approved for funding.

The outcomes to be delivered and measured for each project should be proportionate to the amount of funding requested.

Applicants may be asked to clarify outcomes and reporting measures during the assessment process. The reporting methodology for each project must be agreed prior to entering a funding deed.

Applicants can refer to a sample funding deed available at nsw.gov.au/R4Rr9

Criteria 2:Local need

Applications must demonstrate the project aligns with one or more outcomes in one of the following plans:

- the Local Government Area's Community Strategic Plan or Delivery Program
- the broader regional plan of which the Local Government Area or regional joint organisation of councils is a part
- the broader Regional Economic Development Strategy (REDS) for the region or relevant NSW Government Strategy (e.g. State Infrastructure Strategy 2018-2038, Future Transport 2056, Regional Growth Plans).

Where individual projects are not specifically identified in the above plans, applications will need to demonstrate how the project will deliver one or more objectives identified in the relevant plan/s. Projects can demonstrate public benefit by showing how the project will benefit the public generally, or a sufficient section of the public. Similarly, while projects can be located on private land they must not be solely for private benefit. The Applicant will need to show how the facility will be open to the community.

It is advisable that tourism product development projects are developed in collaboration with the local Destination Network and, where the project relates to Aboriginal tourism, the relevant Local Aboriginal Land Council.

Criteria 3:Affordability

Applicants will need to demonstrate projects can be delivered within the identified budget and can be managed independent of further government funding. Quotes or detailed estimates should be provided.

Projects should support local procurement, where possible, and articulate how they will do this.

Project costs eligible for funding include those associated with capital costs to build local economic and community infrastructure.

Detailed costings should be provided for each project and be only for the period required to deliver stated outcomes of the projects.

Projects will need to be delivered within a 3 year timeframe. Extensions may be considered on a case-by-case basis at the discretion of the Department of Regional NSW.

Project management and administration costs are eligible to a maximum of 10 per cent of the total project cost.

Project contingency costs are eligible to a maximum of 25 per cent of the total project cost.

Project value for money will be assessed by determining that the outcomes to be delivered by a project are proportionate to the amount of funding requested by that project.

Criteria 4:

Deliverability

Project deliverability refers to the Applicant's capacity, capability and resources to carry out the project.

Applicants must demonstrate the project is investment ready by providing:

- a detailed and realistic project management plan (including risk assessment and management plans) and show that works can be staged
- evidence the project can commence within 6 months of funding announcement and can be delivered within 3 years as outlined in the project plan or business case
- confirmation there is no serious planning, construction, zoning, environmental and/or Native Title impediments to delivering the project
- evidence the Applicant has the required expertise to deliver the project or program and/or can access experienced and qualified personnel to support the delivery of the project
- for infrastructure, evidence that the Applicant has the financial capacity to manage the infrastructure, including its operation and/or maintenance when the project is completed.

Assessment process

Following receipt of applications, the Department of Regional NSW will review projects against the Eligibility Criteria and then arrange for the assessment of projects against the Assessment Criteria.

Through the assessment process, the Department of Regional NSW may request additional information from the Applicant and may also seek advice from other NSW Government agencies or other third parties (such as probity advisors) to assist with the assessment of projects. The Resources for Regions assessment panel will review project eligibility and assessment outcomes and form a list of projects that are deemed suitable/not suitable for government consideration.

The assessment panel may recommend part-funding projects where there is insufficient funding available for the whole project or where only a component of the project is considered suitable for funding. Eligible Applicants may be requested to submit alternative projects if the projects they submit are deemed unsuitable or ineligible.

Probity advice

Independent probity advisors will provide guidance to the Department of Regional NSW on any issues concerning integrity, fairness and accountability that may arise throughout the application, assessment, and decision-making process. This will ensure decisions are made with integrity, fairness and accountability, while delivering value for money for NSW.

Decision making

The assessment panel's advice and recommendations will be provided to the Deputy Premier for consideration and final approval.

Other factors may be taken into consideration when determining final projects to receive funding.

The Department of Regional NSW can take other factors into account that may make an application ineligible for funding, such as any person, business or organisation that could cause reputational or other risk to the NSW Government.

All projects may be referred to other NSW or Australian Government funding programs for consideration. Applications that are referred will be subject to the full Assessment Criteria of the other funding program to which they are referred. Applicants may need to update their application to meet the criteria of the referred program.
